

Orators Take Debate Honor

• STAN REMSBERG WITH 101 points topped third place speaker honors at the third annual Naval Academy Debate Tournament last weekend at Annapolis.

His colleague, Bob Aleshire, with 100 points placed fourth, and John Diesem took fifth spot with 99 points. But two split decisions that went the wrong way dampened University debater hopes of placing high in the meet.

Freshmen May Enroll In AFROTC

• UNIVERSITY FRESHMEN may still enroll in the air science basic course.

The freshman program for the spring semester will include two hours of classroom instruction and one hour of leadership laboratory each week.

The academic course will begin with a general survey of air power, and then cover elements of aerospace power and basic aeronautical science.

arguing the affirmative side lost a split decision to Kings College, defeated the Air Force Academy, and lost to the University of Maryland, the Merchant Marine Academy, and another Kings College team.

Speaking for the negative, Mr. Aleshire and Mr. Remsberg lost a split decision to Kings College, lost to host Naval Academy, and defeated Trinity College, St. Josephs College and the Merchant Marine Academy.

This gave the orators a four-win, six-loss record.

Debating action resumes after finals when Mr. Aleshire and Mr. Remsberg journey to the Harvard Tournament, February 2 to 4. Debaters Molly Harper and Sue Carfer on the negative, and Linda Stone and Margaret Neff on the affirmative travel south to the William and Mary Tournament that same weekend.

Point Of View

Elias To Consider Virginia Post; Campus Opinion Against Move

By Dave Segal
Sports Editor

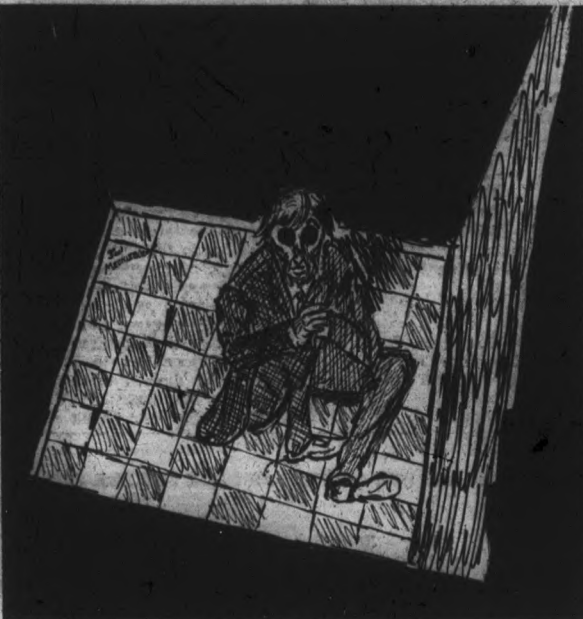

• NO ONE CAN really blame Coach Bill Elias if he decides to accept the head coaching job at the University of Virginia. But everyone here at GW certainly hopes he decides to stay.

At the NCAA football meeting in Pittsburgh last week, Coach Elias was approached, as were about 20 other coaches, by the University of Virginia to sound him out as a candidate for the recently vacated head coaching job. Elias told them that he might be interested in the job but he would make no overtures. They would have to approach him.

All week long the newspapers have been carrying stories rumormongering Elias' inclination towards Virginia. But Virginia had yet to contact him. "I'm not going to hang on much longer," he said.

But Virginia finally did make their move, the HATCHET learned from Mrs. Elias. They telephoned and invited Elias down to Charlottesville for an interview.

The choice now rests pretty much with Elias. When he goes down for his interview, which he probably will do either Tuesday or Wednesday, he will decide

SC's Hi Ball To Come At 'Opportune' Time

• HI BALL COMES at the most opportune time of the semester according to Steve Newman, co-chairman.

"Most people will have recovered from the first round of finals, and will not yet be behind in the second semester's work. And with GW's last home basketball game the next night GWites can make it the big spring weekend," said Mr. Newman.

The dance will be held at the Washington Hotel, February 17, from 9 pm to midnight. (The date is not February 7, as incorrectly printed on the Combo tickets.) Music will be provided by Fred Perry's band, and a special intermission show will be presented by the cast of "The Boyfriend."

This year the Hi Ball committee is making a special effort to get all Colonials to the dance, including the international students and the faculty.

Another innovation is that the price of set-ups and ice is included in the ticket.

Tickets will cost $4.50 per couple without a Combo, $2.50 with one Combo, and $1.00 with two Combos. During registration tickets will be on sale at the Student Union and gym from 10 am to 1 pm and from 5 to 6 pm. From February 6 to 17, sales will be conducted at the Union from 12 to 1 pm and from 5 to 6 pm.

whether or not the situation there is suitable for him.

According to Robert Faris, director of athletics here at GW, Elias will have to decide whether or not this Virginia offer is a promotion. Mr. Faris feels personally that there is better opportunity at GW. Judging by past salaries paid by Virginia to their coaches, Mr. Faris does not think that as the Cavaliers' head coach Elias will be making that much more than he is at GW. "He has promised to come and talk to me about it before he makes his decision," Mr. Faris said.

Coach Elias returned Virginia's phone call Sunday night and, according to Mrs. Elias, "he didn't sound very enthused about it. We like it here very much. Virginia would have to offer a great deal for us to make the switch."

Over at Weiling hall the unanimous feeling is that nobody wants to see Elias go. He is liked and respected there as a coach, but even more important, as a person. A lot of the football players, mainly the freshmen and sophomores, are thinking very seriously about making the move with Elias if he decides to head south. Mainly the attitude is of waiting; waiting for Elias to give them the story rather than believing the daily rumors in the papers.

All over the campus, from Robert Faris to the lowliest undergraduate, there is a distressed feeling of loss. This in itself is a tribute to the man. In his brief year's tenure here at GW, Elias has succeeded in all fields. It is a matter of record that he has made the Colonials into a winning team but his accomplishments far from end there.

Elias has ingratiated himself with every member of the University. Everyone here at school respects his ability as a coach but more important, respects and likes him as a person. Even the people who have had no more contact with him than to sit in the audience, where he has served as the emcee, have felt his personal magnetism. Everyone, to the man at GW, would feel a deep sense of disappointment and loss if Coach Elias decides to leave.

I know the feeling of loyalty that has grown from the student body towards the Coach and his football team. I certainly hope that loyalty is not only for the undergraduates; I hope that it is reciprocal.

Kramer Becomes New Law Dean

• ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL Robert Kramer will become dean of the University Law School February 1, upon completion of his duties in the outgoing Eisenhower Administration.

Appointment of the chief of the Office of Legal Counsel and former Duke University law professor was confirmed by the University Board of Trustees early last week.

In notifying Attorney General William Rogers he will leave government service, Kramer said he would assume his new post with the realization his government job has taught him much, greatly enriched his experience, and revealed "countless new aspects of fascinating problems of law, leadership and justice arising in our Federal government and democratic form of society."

In addition, Kramer supported the attorney general's hope that the Justice Department will be able to adopt a definite plan for acquiring a year's service of selected law teachers.

Both government and law schools will "benefit immensely from such an interchange of knowledge and skills," he said. His own opportunity, to gain the benefits from such an interchange let Kramer see many aspects of the Justice Department about which he had previously had "only secondhand knowledge."

As Law School dean, Kramer fills a post which has been vacant for several years. A series of acting deans have guided the school during that period. The last of these interim administrators is Charles Nutting, dean of the University Law Center, of which the Law School is a part.

The 47-year-old dean-designate, a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard University Law School, was editor of the Journal of Legal Education while a professor at Duke, and has held visiting appointments at various universities and law schools.

"Your appointment," Rogers said in reply to Kramer's notification, "is a well-deserved recognition of your outstanding abilities." Dean Nutting described Kramer as "an outstanding figure in legal education in America."

As assistant attorney general since October, 1959, Kramer was in charge of the Office of Legal Counsel and was responsible for preparing Presidential documents and issuing opinions to the White House.

Kramer served in the army during World War II.

AEPI, PhiSS Win Annual Forensic Bout

• ALPHA EPSILON PI and Phi Sigma Sigma captured first places in the second annual All-University Intra-Mural speech contest last week. AEPI totaled 195½ points and Phi Sigma Sigma 125 points to take the men's and women's divisions of the meet.

Sigma Nu, with 70 points, and Sigma Chi, with 45 points, placed second and third in the men's forensics division. Alpha Delta Pi, with 50 points, and Zeta Tau Alpha, with 45 points, won second and third places in the women's division.

Contestants received 10 points for each category in which they participated. First place winners received 25 points; second place winners, 15 points; third place winners, 10 points; fourth place winners, 5 points; and fifth place winners, 3 points.

SBG Formulates Election Plans

• THE STUDENTS for Better Government, campus political party, last Friday began mapping plans for the second semester.

The party is looking forward to Student Council elections. Plans for the SBG's nominating convention and campaign were discussed at a party executive meeting.

Party Chairman Bill Stuart said March 24 is the last day for students to join the SBG. The convention is planned for April.

Plans for the membership drive were given by membership vice chairman, Tom Edmundson. He reported he planned to secure a United States Senator to speak on campus to stimulate student interest in the party.

The next party meeting will be held February 10, at 1, in Government 1.

Book Exchange To Resume; Buys, Sells Used Text Books

• THE SPRING SEMESTER'S Student Council sponsored book exchange begins operation Monday, January 30.

The exchange is set up to help students buy and sell used texts. It operates without profit. Books are bought and sold for the same price. However, the seller pays a 25 cent service charge deducted from the original cost estimate of each book. This charge pays advertising costs, bookkeeping and incidental expenses.

All books will be kept on consignment, and the sellers will be paid by check. Checks will be sent as soon as all the seller's books have been sold.

The exchange will be open from 12 to 3 and from 6 to 7, Monday through Wednesday, January 29 to 31. Books will be received, but not sold during these pre-registration days.

Thursday, February 1, the first day of registration, the exchange will be open from 12 to 8 pm. Books will be received and sold. Friday from 10 am to 8 pm and Saturday from 10 am to 2 pm sales and receipts will continue.

The exchange will then remain open from February 6 to February 17 between 12 and 2 and 5 and 7. However, no more books will be received after February 10.

The exchange is located in room 203, Student Union annex, in the corridor between the annex and the Student Union.

Anyone interested in further information should contact either Co-chairman Sue DeFilippo in Strong hall or Stanley Remsberg at NA 8-7437.

UN Editor Praises Resolve To Stop World Colonialism

• THE UNITED NATION'S recent adoption of a resolution to end colonialism in all forms stands as a landmark in the progress of that body, Wilfred Binns told faculty members and students at the School of Government luncheon last Thursday in the library.

The UN trusteeship system is, to a great extent, responsible for accelerating this political advance in non-self-governing territories. "It has provided opportunities for independence through orderly evolution and peaceful means," he said.

Mr. Binns, editor and writer for the press and publications bureau of the UN, said the trusteeship system is quite similar to the mandate system of the defunct League of Nations. The UN reviews annual reports submitted by administering authorities of the territories, Mr. Binns said. In addition, the UN can accept a petition which is presented in writing or orally, and it can send missions to visit territories.

The influence of the trusteeship system, he added, is reinforced through the visiting missions and the access the inhabitants have to the UN by their right of petition.

Presently there are seven trust territories, and the trusteeship system serves them in a supervisory capacity.

The United Nations plays an active role in helping these territories in other ways, he said. The Economic Council for Africa, the UN special fund, and the International Bank are just a few of the organizations which work with the territories.

The Trusteeship Council has been responsible for leading four of the original 11 territories into statehood, and for placing at least three others on the doorway of independence, Mr. Binns said. "The number of non-self-governing territories has been reduced from 74 in 1946 to 50 now, and the population involved from 215 million in 1946 to 100 million now."

Players First Coffee Hour Shows 'Arena' Inexperience

By Margaret Walter

• THE COFFEE HOUR, latest attempt of the University Players to enliven student interest in thespian activity, holds possibilities which should, in time, overshadow its premiere last Friday.

As their first presentation the Players chose Eugene O'Neill's "Long Voyage Home." After an intermission in which coffee and cookies were served, the Players gave Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak."

The rationale behind the coffee hour is the presentation of plays in an informal arena stage setting. The Players lack of experience with this type of production, and not poor talent may have been the cause for their mediocre first showing.

In the theater-in-the-round or arena setting the audience frames the scene on three sides, and tends to give spectators a sense of participation in the drama. The Players' lack of experience with this kind of production showed up as an inability to create a separation between themselves and the audience. Instead of projecting their stage personalities to the audience, they seemed to respond to spectator reaction.

The first play, "Long Voyage

Home" seemed to be a better production than the second, "Fumed Oak," because the cast seemed to avoid this fusion of audience and actor. This seemed to be attributable in part to the difference in lighting techniques employed in the two plays.

The setting in "Long Voyage Home" was a dimly lit "dive" in waterfront London that called for a blacking out of the audience and focusing of diffused lighting on only the active characters. These segregating effects of light and darkness made the response of the actor to audience negligible and his participation in the drama dominant.

Awareness of the actor to himself was demonstrated in "Fumed Oak" by the usually able Barbara Wohl who, at times, gave what managed to be a remarkably true interpretation of the shrewish Mrs. Dow. Often she was over- come by Noel Coward's comedy and enjoyed it as a spectator, losing her connection as a participant in the drama.

As Mrs. Dow's husband in "Fumed Oak" Jerry Osborn played the prototype of the long suffering spouse who finally announced his intention of leaving the family circle for good. He was very effective in areas where he had to show silent suffering and mute segregation from the constant family bickering, and became only a little stiff in his declaration of independence where the problem again was overt awareness of the audience.

Gisela Caldwell, as Elsie the cold-ridden daughter who is appreciated only by her grandmother, maintained a remarkable steadiness in her howl-and-tear-filled role, one of the most enjoyable renditions of the evening.

Judy Altman as the grandmother gave a convincing performance of a dignified and querulous old lady who fails to recognize that her son-in-law has a free will.

Acting, aside from the disturbing influence of the unity with the audience, was competent.

If the coffee hour continues its productions and continues to improve with them, it soon will become a welcome addition to the program of the University Players.

THE ENGINEERS HAVE HAIRY EARS

Today in this age of technology when engineering graduates are wooed and courted by all of America's great industries, how do you account for the fact that Rimbaud Sigafos, who finished at the very top of his class at M.I.T., turned down hundreds of attractive job offers to accept employment as a machinery wiper at the Acme Ice Company at a salary of $20 a week with a twelve-hour day, a seven-day week, and only fifteen minutes for lunch?

I know what you are thinking: "Cherchez la femme!" You are thinking that Mr. Acme, head of the Acme Ice Company, has a beautiful daughter with whom Rimbaud is madly in love and he took the job only to be near her.

Friends, you are wrong. It is true that Mr. Acme does have a daughter, a large, torpid lass named Claudia who spends all her waking hours scooping marzipan out of a bucket and staring at a television set which has not worked in some years. Rimbaud has not the slightest interest in Claudia; nor, indeed, does any other man, excepting possibly John Ringling North.

So how come Rimbaud keeps working for the Acme Ice Company? Can it be that they provide him with free Marlboro Cigarettes, and all day long he is able to settle back, make himself comfortable and enjoy the filter cigarette with the un-filtered taste?

a large, torpid lass named Claudia

No, friends, no. Rimbaud is not allowed to smoke on the job and when he finishes his long, miserable day he has to buy his own Marlboros, even as you and I, in order to settle back and enjoy that choice tobacco, that smooth, mellow flavor, that incomparable filter, that pack or box.

Well, friends, you might as well give up because you'll never in a million years guess why Rimbaud works for the Acme Ice Company. The reason is simply this: Rimbaud is a seal!

He started as a performing seal in vaudeville. One night on the way to the Ed Sullivan show, he took the wrong subway. All night the poor mammal rode the B.M.T., seeking a helping hand. Finally a kindly brakeman named Ernest Thompson Sigafos rescued the hapless Rimbaud.

He took Rimbaud home and raised him as his own, and Rimbaud, to show his appreciation, studied hard and got excellent marks and finished a distinguished academic career as valedictorian of M.I.T.

Rimbaud never complained to his kindly foster father, but through all those years of grammar school and high school and college, he darn near died of the heat! A seal, you must remember, is by nature a denizen of the Arctic, so you can imagine how poor Rimbaud must have suffered in subtropical New York and Boston, especially in those tight Ivy League suits.

But today at the Acme Ice Company, Rimbaud has finally found a temperature to his liking. He is very happy and sends greetings to his many friends.

Frosh Boast Record

Ardel, a second semester freshman from Philadelphia, Ardel, who served an Army hitch after earning All-City honors at West Catholic High, has been averaging 25 points a game. He tallied 31 against Bainbridge.

Ardel has been used chiefly as an inside man, and has scored heavily on driving layups. Since he becomes a sophomore after the semester break, the Ft. Myer game will be his last for the frosh.

The leader under the backboards has been by 6-4 Bob Armstrong. "Armstrong is the backbone of our rebounding strength. Without his rebounding, we would have lost the Georgetown game," said Klein.

Although the tallest man on the roster, 6-5 Ed Ruppert, Klein's fifth starter, is the least spectacular. "Ruppert does a lot that doesn't show up in the scorebook, on defense and under the backboards," said the coach.

Not this student who studies drowsily no matter how much sleep he gets.

This! Perspicacious... sharp! NoDoz keeps you awake and alert—safely!

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDoz. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming. NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable. So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

● AGAIN, KIDDIES, we approach the inevitable . . . final exams. Auntie took a survey last week. She wanted to know, how does one study for finals?

Her first interview was with Murth McGurke, professor of political science. He told her that no one could study for his course because his students had done so poorly on their mid-terms that nothing that they could do on the final could save them. She then went to Dr. Kent, authority on cancer in the lungs. His advice was to keep on smoking.

Her next authority was Gordon McGarden, head of the Potomac Natural Gas Institute for the Advancement of Petroleum Products. His advice was to take gas and all your exam troubles would vanish.

Your Auntie then went to Canned Crammingberry, head of Crammingberry Institute. He told her that the best method of study was the well-known Cramming method.

She then went to Miss Margorie Moringafter, and asked her what to do. Miss Moringafter said that the best thing was tomato juice mixed with one raw egg, a shot of Chevas Regal, and a little bit of Worcestershire sauce. This, she tells Auntie, is guaranteed to end any afterthought of the affair.

Auntie certainly hopes that her little study is of benefit to all you little party-goers.

Now to the gossip. Spartacus did it; so can you! The Roman theme for Sigma Nu's Saturday night-orgy was acclaimed by Ed Gross and date Sheila Machlis, Slave Master Lynn and his wife Bunny, and Procurator Plowman and his intended, Anne Birdsong, Pi Phi from U of Md.

Imbibing in the cellar, Tom Lorenz and Buddy Applewhite matched drinks with their lovely toga-clad dates as Spiro Kripotos and Linda Beyer, dressed in the fashions of Greece, looked on.

In the reclining room were seen Brother Jim Whitney and KD Glynda Hamilton, Jim Sharratt and Jan Ferrara, Stover Babcock and Billie Wickman, and Fred Goss and Kelly Cooper (hung over). Also seen were Joe Valliant and Rita Ferrara and Al Johnson and DG Penny Reid. What happened to Reedo? He didn't get a date until the bewitching hour.

The Spanish club held its first meeting of the new year January 10 at which time a movie from Venezuela, Llano Adentro, was shown. New officers for the next semester were elected as follows: president, John Metel-Sky; vice-president, Jorge Uribe; secretary-treasurer, Sandee Homlar. Plans were made for the next party which will be held the first part of February.

In closing, Auntie wishes you a very Merry Finals and a Happy New Semester.

HELP!

Yes, that's what we need. Young women with some college or business background can help us and also help themselves in good customer contact jobs. The work isn't routine . . . It's stimulating . . . Pays well too . . . and for rapid advancement and broad company benefits it just can't be beat.

Right now we have vacancies for Service Representatives in downtown Washington, and nearby Maryland and Virginia.

This may be just the job you are looking for. Won't you come into our Employment Office and let us tell you more about it. Interviewers are available Monday through Friday from 8:30 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: A penny saved is a penny earned. And if you could put away a penny a week for one year . . . why, you will have fifty-two cents!

Dear Dr. Frood: Our college mascot is a great big lovable Saint Bernard. He loves everyone—except me. In fact, he has bitten me viciously eight times. What can I do to get him to like me?

Frustrated Dog Lover

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Mother him. To carry this off, I suggest you wear a raccoon coat, let your hair and eyebrows grow shaggy and learn to whimper affectionately.

Dear Dr. Frood: Most of my life here is extracurricular. I carry the drum for the band, pull the curtain for the drama society, wax the court for the basketball team, scrape the ice for the hockey team, clap erasers for the faculty club and shovel snow for the fraternity houses. Do you think these activities will really help me when I get out of college?

Eager

DEAR EAGER: I don't think the college will let you out.

Dear Dr. Frood: On New Year's Eve I foolishly resolved to be more generous with my Luckies. My friends have held me to this, and I've been forced to give away several packs a day. What do you think would happen if I broke this resolution?

Resolute

DEAR RESOLUTE: It's hard to tell, really. Lightning, a runaway horse, a tornado—who knows?

Dear Dr. Frood: Before vacation, my girl and I agreed to exchange Christmas presents. I sent her a nice hanky. You can imagine how I felt when I awoke Christmas morning to find a sports car from her. What can I do now?

Distraught

DEAR DISTRAUGHT: Remind her that Easter giving time is just around the corner.

Dear Dr. Frood: Can you help me convince my girl that I'm not as stupid as she thinks I am?

Anxious

DEAR ANXIOUS: Perhaps, but you'll have to convince me first.

TO GET A QUICK LIFT, suggests Frood, step into an elevator and light up a Lucky. Instantly, your spirits will rise. When you savor your Lucky, you're IN—for college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. They're a wisecracking bunch who've known all along that Luckies taste great. Get the cigarettes with the toasted taste—get Luckies.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

registered a 45-37 victory over PhiSK. The Phi Sigs put on a tremendous second half rally, coming back from a 29-15 deficit at half-time to outscore Adams in the second half 22-16. Arnie Plevin was the game's high scorer with 11 for the winners. Bud Mulcock tallied eight for the Phi Sigs.

The Welling Juniors continued on their winning ways, ploughing under AEP1 by an 82-48 margin. Andy Guida did everything but dunk the ball as he popped in 31 points for the Juniors. Teammate Nick Anzelmi tallied 17 points and combined with Guida to out-rebound the Apemen 42-25. Bob Layvine led the AEP1 point production with 10.

Sigma Chi bounced back from a 14-11 halftime deficit to defeat DTD 26-24. With Ken Larrish and "Bear" Massey controlling the backboards and tossing in 10 points between them, the Deltas left the floor at the half with a three-point margin. Sigma Chi rallied in the second half. Al Baker hit on a set shot to give the Chimen an 18-15 lead which they never relinquished. Baker and Dennis Jaques were high for the Chimen with nine points each. Larrish was high for the Deltas with eight.

Well Balanced Baby Buff Boast 5-1 Season Record

by Ron Goldwyn

● THE NEAR-PERFECT balance that has been the key to success for George Washington's freshman basketball team thus far makes the little Colonials a slight favorite in Tuesday night's pre-exam contest against Fort Myer at the Arlington army base.

The Buff's junior edition has thus far outstripped the varsity with a 5-1 record, and has an excellent chance to finish the season with only one blemish on its record—an abrupt turn-about from last year's 5-10 season.

Coach George Klein has taken a nucleus of four scholarship frosh, all over 6-3 and added a 5-10 play-maker from Portsmouth, Va., to produce a winner. The squad has everything: height, depth, shooting accuracy, rebounding skill and desire.

Backcourt star Jerry Rudy, is attending the University on a tennis scholarship, but has made himself an indispensable part of the basketball squad. "He has given us just what we need in the backcourt," Klein said. "I don't know where we'd be without him."

Joining Rudy is Dave Sparks who, despite his 6-3 frame, is used chiefly as a guard because of his shooting ability. Sparks, from Ashland, Ky., hit for 29 points in the frosh's 94-74 win over Bainbridge Prep Thursday night, and has averaged 20 points a game.

The youthful Klein, in only his second year as team mentor, touted Sparks as "a terrific out-side shooter, the best I've ever seen for a freshman."

The scoring sensation of the freshman unit has been 6-3 Don (Continued on Page 6)

GETTING DOWN TO CASES...WITH AN ELECTRONIC COMPUTER

A young lawyer may spend many years searching through the countless volumes in a law library before he ever gets a chance to plead a case. His job is to research the cases which may provide legal precedent. It's a very necessary but tedious task.

Recently it was demonstrated that an IBM computer could accomplish electronic retrieval of statutory law. Nearly 2,000 statutes pertaining to a specific area of the law were stored in the computer's memory. In response to inquiries, the computer searched its memory at electronic speed and on instructions pointed out either citations or the full text of relevant statutes. This was accomplished in minutes. It might have taken a young lawyer the entire day.

Putting computers to work in unusual ways is not new at IBM. Computers are now doing remarkable jobs in interesting and important areas of business, industry, science and government.

If you are interested in a company that offers you an exciting career with virtually unlimited growth potential, then you should investigate IBM. Positions are open in research, development, programming and manufacturing.

The IBM representative will be glad to discuss any one of these fields with you. Your placement office can give you further information and arrange for an appointment. Or you may write, outlining your background and interests, to: Manager of Technical Employment, IBM Corporation, 590 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N.Y.

You naturally have a better chance to grow with a growth company.

Bisons, Mountaineers Top Hundred Mark

• IT WAS NO longer the plague of not being able to get hot or even being outscored on the foul line that hampered the Colonials. This week, the simple fact that the other team scored more points than the Buff was the cause of the 105-87 loss to the West Virginia Mountaineers and the 101-85 defeat at the hands of Bucknell.

The Mountaineers outplayed the Colonials at their own running game and utilized many hot hands to run up a 55-30 margin at the half. West Virginia popped in 25 of 51 field goals to 12 of 35 for the Colonials. The Mountaineers outrebounded the Buff two to one, 25-12.

The ballgame was a close one, with the Mountaineers maintaining a slim 11-9 margin at the five minute mark. But then the Mountaineers went to town with an unbelievable skein of baskets to wrap up the ballgame. Led by Rod Thorn, their sophomore replacement for the graduated Jerry West, who hit for nine of 11 from the floor, George King's men kept piling it on.

Swish

Thorn displayed an unusual two-handed jump shot which hardly rippled the cords as it went through. His favorite spot was from about 30 feet out and the shot was unstoppable. Lee Patrone led the deadly Mountaineer fast break for numerous baskets.

In the second half, the Colonials made a rush at the overwhelming lead and succeeded in narrowing down the deficit to 11 points with only four minutes remaining but that was the best the Buff were able to do. Overall, the Colonials out scored the Mountaineers 57-52 in the second half. Jon Feldman led the team in everything other than rebounds as he played his heart out. West Virginia used a man-to-man defense with McCormick playing Feldman like his shadow. Little Jon drove around him and between all the hulking Mountaineer giants to score beautiful layups.

Feldman Hits

Overall the Colonials were 36 for 78 from the floor for a percentage of 46. They also hit on 15 of 20 free throws. Jon Feldman was the high point man for the Buff with 27 but took a second place to Rod Thorn's 32 for the high scoring honors. Jon was 11 for 24 from the field and five for five from the line. Bill Norton, who only played half the game, hit for 19, scoring eight for 12 from the floor and three for five from the line. Dick Markowitz pulled own 11 rebounds and tallied ten points.

The Mountaineers fell off on their shooting accuracy somewhat in the second half, winding up with 42 field goals in 91 attempts. They tallied on 21 of 30 free throws. Rod Thorn was the high point man with 32. He scored 13 of 23 from the floor and five for five from the line. Richie Patrone, Shuk and McCormick hit for 14, 13, 10 and 10 points, respectively. Thorn was also high for the Mountaineers off the boards with 12 rebounds. Overall, the Mountaineers swept the boards clear of 42 rebounds to only 27 for the Colonials.

Buzzer Basket

Larry Roman of Bucknell popped in a jumper just before the first half buzzer to give Bucknell a 47-46 lead over the Buff at halftime. But in the second half the roof fell in for the hapless Colonials as the Bisons outscored the Buff 64-39 to take a 101-85 victory going away.

Joe Steiner was the high point man in the ballgame with 30. Dick Kniffin added 24 and Roman hit for 20 to bolster the Bucknell margin. Bucknell hit on 40 of 90 field goal attempts for a little better than a average 44 percentage. But the Colonials tallied on only 27 of 84 shots for a miserable 32 percent. Strangely enough, the Buff outrebounded Bucknell 59-52 yet took six less shots at the basket.

Jon Feldman led the GW scorers with 25. Feldman was nine for 22 from the field and seven for nine from the line. Little Jon even managed to pull down eight rebounds. Bill Ingram was the only other Colonial in double figures with 16. Ingram also led the Buff

• IN A-1 LEAGUE action, PIKA won its initial game of the season, defeating PhiSK 39-28. Ball control and superior rebounding proved the decisive factor in a game which saw the lead change hands eight times.

PhiSK took the lead at half-time, 15-12, with an 8-point spurt in the second quarter. But as the second half progressed things just didn't go right for the Phi Sigs. With Jim Grant and Dick Krafur combining for 11 points, Pike pulled into a 27-16 lead as the final period started. Grant led all scorers with 18 points followed by Bill Dierks of Phi Sig with 12.

AEPI also won its first game of the season by downing PAD, 56-29. The Apemen pulled right out to an 11-0 lead at the quarter and were never headed. With Roger Honig and Dave Segal leading the fast breaks, AEPI built up their lead to 24-4 at the half. Segal was high for the Apes with 11. Jeff Young and Alan Wise hit for 10. Roger Honig tallied eight for the winners. Phil Prokoff was high for the Lawyers with 14 points, 12 of them in the second half.

Loren Gergens briefs two of his salesmen on new telephone services for business customers.

"I DIDN'T WANT TO BE STOCKPILED"

When Loren Gergens was working for his B.S. degree in Business Administration at the University of Denver, he had definite ideas about the kind of job he wanted to land. He was determined to profit from the experience of several of his friends who had accepted promising jobs only to find themselves in "manpower pools"—waiting to be pulled into a responsible position. "I didn't want to be stockpiled," Loren says. "That's no way to start."

As a senior, Loren talked to twelve companies and joined The Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company, an associated company of the Bell Telephone System.

From his first day challenges were thrown at him thick and fast. First, he supervised a group of service representatives who handle the communications needs of telephone customers. Then he served as manager of several telephone business offices. In these jobs Loren had to prove himself on the firing line, make right decisions and carry them through. He knew his next jump depended on only one man—Loren Gergens.

In July, 1960, he was made Sales Manager in Boulder, Colorado.

"I'm on the ground floor of a newly created telephone marketing organization. And I can tell you things are going to move fast!" Loren says. "It's rough at times, but hard work is fun when you know you're going somewhere—in a business where there's somewhere to go."

If you're interested in a job in which you can be your own prime mover—a job in which you're given a chance to show what you can do, right from the start—you'll want to visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."
